Why shift to skills

External Data points

- By 2025 50% of all employees will need to be reskilled.<sup>1</sup>
- By 2025 97 million new jobs will emerge and 85 million jobs will be displaced.<sup>1</sup>
- 74% of CEOs are concerned about the availability of key skills, and worried that this shortage of talent will constrain growth.<sup>2</sup>
- 70% of employees have not mastered the skills they need today.<sup>3</sup>
- 36% of managers think employees will not keep pace with future skills needs.<sup>3</sup>

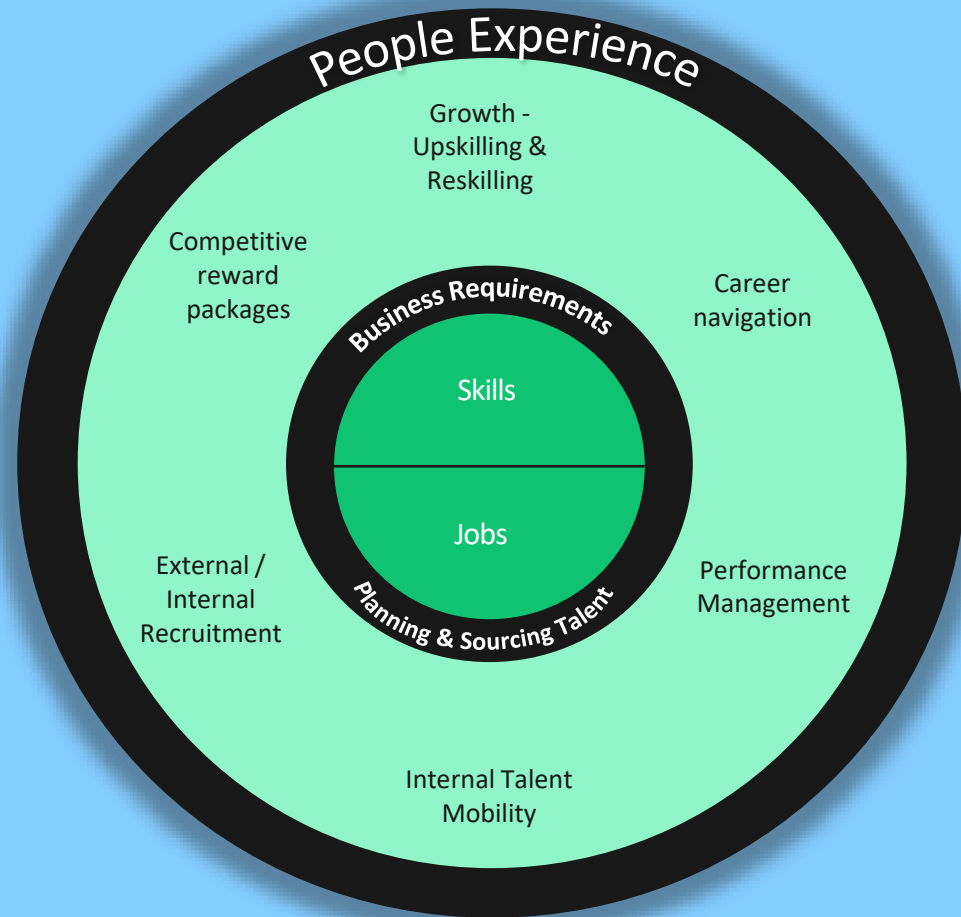

The faster skills and jobs change the greater the pain for organisations without a skills-based framework

2. PWC 2020 CEO Survey
3. CEB Shifting Skills Survey 2018

Internal Pain Points

- “We don’t know our long-term demand for job roles and critical skills”
- “We need to be more responsive to rapidly changing skill demands”
- “People want to understand skills required to progress to their next job”
- “Need more skills data for reskilling and to match skills to opportunities”
- “Our job role descriptions do not guide managers to select the correct job stage.”

Vision of an evolved job and skills architecture

- Foundational and enabling the Business & Employee experience
- Dynamic skills architecture connected to a flexible job architecture
- Holistic & Integrated
- Easy & Automated
- Empowering employees
